Position Summary:

Make a difference for low-income Montanans who have pending criminal, juvenile, mental health, or family defense matters throughout the western part of the state as a member of Justice for Montanans serving with the Montana Office of Public Defender (OPD). The members will help increase the access and knowledge of resources available for OPD's clients and attorneys by actively engaging in community resource mapping strategies. The community resource mapping will be gathered throughout western Montana and will entail collecting the documents needed to connect clients to resources (intakes, applications, release of information, etc.). Additionally, while working collaboratively with OPD's attorneys, the member will assist clients who are incarcerated or in the community setting with coordinating substance use treatment referrals.

AmeriCorps members will uphold the goals of the Justice for Montanans Program by increasing access to justice for low to moderate income Montanans.

Specific Position Responsibilities:

- Ability to collaborate with a variety of communities and local service providers to connect clients to essential resources and services.
- Foster communication and connections with a wide array of community service providers while sustaining a collaborative community referral network.
- Develop and maintain a social service agency resource directory. This may include substance use outpatient and inpatient treatment, mental health resources, housing resources, tribal member contacts, and other social service agencies that will benefit OPD's clients.
- Works as a team member of the defense attorney to assist clients charged with criminal offenses and/or child abuse and neglect cases, specifically those with substance use disorders or co-occurring disorders.
- Appropriately and effectively communicate with attorneys to provide updates that are associated with the case and client's potential release plan for inpatient treatment.
- Effectively assist clients with substance use referrals by coordinating and obtaining a chemical dependency evaluation to determine a client's level of care.

- Gather and fill out appropriate paperwork and documents to assist clients in securing treatment placements.
- By abiding by HIPPA laws, utilizing appropriate releases of information, submit a client's referral to an applicable treatment facility.
- Assist client with Medicaid activation or reactivation.
- Coordinate transportation for the client to the inpatient treatment facility.
- Follow-up on client's progress on their treatment plan and report findings to OPD's attorney associated with the case.
- Build rapport and trust with clients that are referred.

Minimum Requirements:

- Desire for increasing access to justice and assisting low-income individuals. Candidates with some interest in either attending law school or social work program.
